Greetings to our church family,

This has certainly been an exciting week for us. On Monday, August 29, Sara and I headed to the clinic in Spanish Lookout. That evening, Isaiah Jude Kauffman was born, weighing 7lbs., 14oz., and 20 inches long. Sara and I spent the night at the clinic while my parents babysat Eden and Madeline. Everything went smoothly, and everyone is doing fine. We are quite grateful to have my parents here to assist us with babysitting, meal prep, and cleaning the house.

Then on Friday, September 2, we officially started our school here in Cayo. It was a short day that included the normal “first day of school” routine. This coming Monday will begin our first full week of school.

Thank you for praying for the safe delivery of our baby. The timing seems perfect since I had several days off to be at home before school started. We are enjoying having my parents here for two more weeks while school gets into full swing. Thank you for your continued prayers and support.

-Daniel Kauffman
